

FOXLANE
HOMES

Anderson Preserve

Nestled among the hills and countryside of Newtown, PA is a small enclave of single family homes. This perfect location will allow your family to explore the many farmers markets and beautiful open spaces of historic Wrightstown Township.

Nestled among the hills of Newtown

Anderson Preserve is a small enclave of 10 estate-style single family homes in Council Rock School District. This perfect location will allow your family to explore the many farmers markets and beautiful open spaces of historic Wrightstown Township. Anderson Preserve is minutes from Newtown Borough and close to Routes 1 & 95. Home sites in Anderson Preserve vary from .7 to 2.1 acres, allowing you to build floor plans from 3,444 to over 4,300 square feet.

Anderson Preserve Site Plan - 10 estate-style single family homes

Our Homes

Our goal in designing each home collection was to blend timeless architecture with modern amenities. They had to feel open and flowing while intimate and warm. Luxurious living with quality craftsmanship. Most importantly, they needed to address how modern families work, play, live and grow.

We are thrilled to share the results of our design collaboration. Each home collection is fully realized with three architectural variations to choose from: Classic, Traditional and Craftsman.

If you would like to make any custom modifications, our award-winning architects are here to help.

Questions?

We're here to help.

610.755.1413

info@foxlanehomes.com

THE GEORGETOWN COLLECTION

THE MADISON COLLECTION

THE PRINCETON COLLECTION

